Mr. Walter Reid Wolf
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Walter:

I arrived in Chicago yesterday morning after a five-week vacation much refreshed and invigorated. Perhaps the fact that the vacation was so long deferred made it taste better when I finally took it.

I intended to write you this morning that I was back, and just as I was starting to dictate your letter of October 31st came in. [redacted] has not yet been in touch with me and as I do not know where to get in touch with him, I shall have to await his initiative. Since you say he may possibly be here the early part of next week, perhaps he will get in touch with me then if not today. I have a [redacted] meeting on Monday which will tie me up until the latter part of the afternoon, but I will make every effort to put myself at his disposition some time during the day.

With sincere regards -

[redacted]
